

Lao People's Democratic Republic: Statistical Appendix

This Statistical Appendix for Lao People's Democratic Republic was prepared by a staff team of the International Monetary Fund as background documentation for the periodic consultation with the member country. It is based on the information available at the time it was completed on July 7, 2008. The views expressed in this document are those of the staff team and do not necessarily reflect the views of the government of Lao People's Democratic Republic or the Executive Board of the IMF.

The policy of publication of staff reports and other documents by the IMF allows for the deletion of market-sensitive information.

Lao P.D.R.: Summary of Tax System

Tax	Nature of Tax	Exemptions and Deductions	Rates (in percent, unless otherwise indicated)
4.1 Import duties (continued)		Imported inputs (raw materials, machinery and equipment, building materials) for approved foreign-financed private sector and joint venture investment projects are subject to an import fee of 1 percent. In highly exceptional cases and by specific decision of the government, foreign investors may also be exempt from the 1 percent duty rate because of the large size of their investments and the significant positive impact that those investments are expected to have on the socio-economic development of the country.	10
		Raw materials and intermediate goods imported for the purpose of processing and then re-exported are fully exempt from import duties.
		There are no discretionary exemptions. The Minister of Finance does not have the power to grant duty exemptions. There is also no drawback scheme for import duties paid on inputs for exports.
		In May 2008, temporary caps were placed on dutiable (c.i.f.) price of petroleum imports, affecting the amount of import duty, excise duty, and turnover tax collected on petroleum products.
4.2 Export duties		All exported finished products produced from raw materials and intermediate components imported free of import duty under Article 17 of the Law on the Promotion and Management of Foreign Investment in the Lao P.D.R. are exempt.
