Press Release

Mark Lewis, Senior Resident Representative of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) in Turkey made the following statement today:

Turkey has paid the final installment of its debt to the IMF. The IMF and the IMF's Ankara office look forward to continued cooperation with Turkey, which has been a member of the IMF since 1947. In particular, we look forward to the regular dialogue on economic and financial policies that we maintain with all our members, collaboration on research and other projects, and training and technical support. And with Turkey taking an increasingly active role in the IMF, we look forward to working closely at the international level to help address the current pressing global economic challenges.
