

Jan Rielaender joined the OECD Development Centre in 2011 as Economist at the Development Centre's Europe, Middle East and Africa Desk, where he is heading the Desk's work on inclusive growth and employment. Jan is the lead author of the forthcoming 2013 African Economic Outlook (AEO) on structural transformation and natural resources and the 2012 edition on youth employment. In addition Jan is country analyst for Egypt.

Prior to joining the Development Centre in 2011, Jan was Technical Advisor to the OECD's Partnership for Democratic Governance, supporting fragile states' building capacity for core government functions. Before that he was an evaluator with both the World Bank (2005–08) in Washington and UNICEF (2008–10) in Eastern and Southern Africa. Jan holds Masters Degrees in Economics and International Relations from Syracuse University and a BA from Technical University Dresden.