

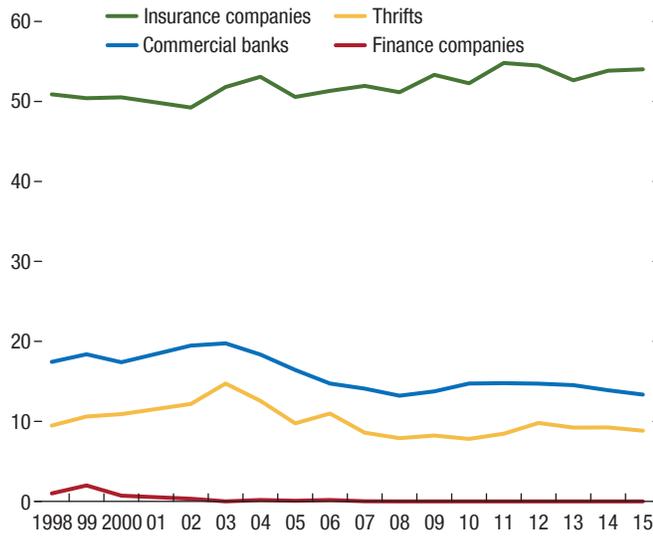

Figure 2.4. Marked-to-Market Assets by Sector
(Percent)

Marked-to-market assets have fallen in banks and remain high for insurers.

Sources: SNL Financial; and IMF staff calculations.

Note: The figure shows the median value of assets recorded at fair value as a percentage of total assets, by sector, using a sample of financial institutions from various countries. Fair-value assets are trading account securities and securities available for sale and are marked to market.